

Entangled Religions

Interdisciplinary Journal for the Study of Religious Contact and Transfer

Call for Reviews

Entangled Religions is a peer-reviewed online journal that aims at bundling state-of-the-art scholarly research on religious contact and transfer from all scientific disciplines. In addition to high-quality articles, we endeavour to provide our readers with well-founded expertise on the best of current publications.

Your contribution should meet the following criteria:

- Books reviewed should treat matters relevant to religious contact and transfer and should not be older than two years
- Reviews should not exceed 1-3 pages
- Reviews have to be novel and have to be submitted to Entangled Religions exclusively

Entangled Religions reserves the right to review and edit book reviews. Authors of book reviews will receive a finalized file of their book review for approval before publication.
