

The "Denton"Conference in Implicit Religion 20-22 May 2016

The Trustees of the Centre for the Study of Implicit Religion and Contemporary Spirituality are pleased to tell you that the 39th Conference on Implicit Religion, will take place from Friday 20th May to Sunday 22nd May at Sarum College, The Close, Salisbury. The "Denton Conferences" for 2016 and 2017 are very kindly being arranged by Francis Stewart . Please see the Attached letter from her for further details about the Conference. (Francis has been a regular attender at Denton in recent years. Her particular interests are in implicit religion within punk and anarchy subcultures, Irish and Northern Irish relationships with identity and religion, sociology of religion and sociology of secularism.)

Sarum College is an historic building, beautifully situated in the Cathedral Close at Salisbury. The College has easy transport links and is able to make available a few more rooms than was possible at Denton.

Inaugural lecture: We are delighted that Professor Grace Davie has agreed to open the conference, with an inaugural lecture to be given in memory of Edward Bailey.

The Journal

The Journal Implicit Religion continues to be published while Equinox seeks a new editor. If you might be interested in the role, or have anyone to suggest, please either contact Equinox direct on jjoyce@equinoxpub.com or let us know.

Personal

Edward's family very much appreciated all the messages of condolence received following his death last April.

Any enquires continue to be welcome at edward.bailey@implicitreligion.org