

Communal Studies Association

I believe Torang Asadi or Tim Miller may have already circulated this, but here it is again. Deadline = March 1.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN RECEIVING A RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP to study and attend the Annual Communal Studies Association Conference in Salt Lake City October 6-8, 2016 - here is the Research Fellowship information. Feel free to contact me if you have questions - Laura Kohl. I am a Board member and attend and present each year.

CSA Research Fellowship

Amount

$1200. Half of the money is awarded upon announcement of the successful grant application, with the second half given after presentation of the research at a CSA conference. The winner is announced on May 1 of the award year, and the research is presented at the following year's conference (e.g. the 2011 award's research is presented at the 2012 conference).

Application Deadline

March 1st of the award year.

Applicant should provide

A curriculum vitae or resume and letters from two relevant references.

A two-page description of the overall project, how he/she plans to accomplish such research, its goals, a timeline and how it will be presented at the CSA conference (paper, panel, A/V presentation, performance, exhibition, etc.)

A bibliography of intended resources to be consulted during the grant project, and a statement that these resources are open to the applicant; a detailed budget (specify if funds other than this grant are to be used and their sources).

Criteria

Research must meet the goals of the mission of the CSA (to encourage and facilitate the preservation, restoration and interpretation of historic communal sites, to study intentional communities past and present, to communicate the successful ideas from and lessons learned by these communal societies) and result in tangible scholarship that must be presented at a CSA conference.

Research and presentation should be completed within one calendar year of the awarding of the grant, unless special circumstances intervene. Any exceptions must be discussed with the committee and will be approved at their discretion.

Qualifications of applicant

Must be a CSA member in good standing at the time of application and at presentation of the research.

Need not be affiliated with an academic or historical institution, but must show qualifications to complete the stated research.

Application

To apply to this fellowship email your project and qualifications to:

info@communalstudies.org

ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2016

Anticipating the End Times: Millennialism, Apocalypticism, and Utopianism in Intentional Communities

OCTOBER 6–8, 2016

Salt Lake City, Utah.

Read More

EARLY VOLUMES OF JOURNAL NOW FREE !!!