CALL FOR A PREDOCTORAL CONTRACT
WITHIN THE PROJECT
'LIVED ANCIENT RELIGION IN NORTH AFRICA'

Within the framework of the research project Lived Ancient Religion in North Africa, led by Dr. Valentino Gasparini, the Carlos III University of Madrid is going to convene a predoctoral contract aimed at completing a doctoral thesis linked to the project at UC3M. This contract is funded by the Community of Madrid within the framework of the call for grants to attract research talent for incorporation into research groups of the Community of Madrid through Order 3112/2017 of the Minister of Education, Youth and Sports (ref. 2017-T1/HUM-5709).

The research contract has a duration of one year, extendable up to a maximum of 4 years, and includes a minimum salary of 12,418 euros gross per annum, Social Security coverage and additional specific allowance for short research stays, travel and subsistence costs.

Candidates must hold a Bachelor's degree or university degree with at least 300 ECTS credits (European Credit Transfer System) or Master, or equivalent, and have been provisionally admitted to a PhD program (even if not matriculated yet), but NOT have the title of doctor. The candidates for the contract linked to the Lived Ancient Religion in North Africa project must also gather as specific requirements a broad knowledge of the Latin language and its epigraphy, and an adequate archaeological and historico-religious formation. Those without these formal qualifications may be asked to undergo a short test during the selection process.

The time allowed for the application will be very short, between five and seven days, so potential candidates should ideally have their applications previously prepared. It is likely that the call will open during the week of February 26 or the following. In this sense, it is advisable that the interested parties send an email as soon as possible to Dr. Valentino Gasparini (vgaspari@hum.uc3m.es) with expression of intention to compete and a CV attached.
