

Call for Papers

The Center for Critical Research on Religion
<http://www.criticaltheoryofreligion.org> invites paper proposals for a session on

Critical Theories of Religion

to be held at the 17th Annual Conference of the International Social Theory Consortium

<http://socialtheory.org>

Loyola University Chicago, Illinois, USA
May 17-19, 2018.

This panel will explore how critical theory, in the broadest possible sense, can be applied to the analysis of religion. Critical theories discussed may include but need not be confined to the critical theory of the Frankfurt School, Marxism, post-structuralism, feminism, psychoanalysis, ideological criticism, post-colonialism, ecocriticism, and queer studies.

Authors of promising papers presented in this panel will be invited to submit their revised papers in article form to the peer-reviewed academic journal Critical Research on Religion (<http://crr.sagepub.com>) either individually or for a special issue.

Please send abstracts to:
