

As you know, here at the NSRN blog we are always interested in new perspectives and voices to share. As such we are looking for some new assistant editors at the NSRN blog to help us expand both our submissions and our reach. Therefore, if you are interested in becoming an assistant editor or know of someone who might make a good editor, please get in touch with us (editor.nsrn@gmail.com).

Additionally, if you have a potential submission for the NSRN blog, we'd love to hear from you!

We look forward to hearing from you and welcoming some new assistant editors to the team in the coming months!
