

Faith in Europe Briefings

These briefings come once or twice a year, and cover topics of current concern in Europe (broadly defined) from faith perspectives. They are collections of texts of presentations at the quarterly meetings of the organisation Faith in Europe. To illustrate the range, the titles of three texts in the latest issue are: 'Populism: What does it mean for Europe, our Societies and our Minds?'; 'How can we talk about the State of Israel and its Policies without being accused of Antisemitism?'; 'Christian Illiberalism in Hungary in a Historical Perspective'.

The Briefings are available at: <https://faithineurope.org.uk>

Further information is available from Philip Walters: philip.max.walters@googlemail.com